THE GOAT.

Beware the chap who steals a dime:
The scoundrel should be doing time.
He is a thief.

He not too friendly with the man
Who steals a dollar when he can.
He's a pilferer.

Your favors lend in goodly chunks
To him who nabs a thousand plunks.
He's a looter.

Much honor, plaudits, highest rank
Yield to the man who wrecks a bank.
He's a financier.

Before that man stand awe-struck, dumb,
Who puts great railroads on the bum.
He's a captain of industry.

A CHICAGO woman has just been granted a divorce because she couldn't cook sauerkraut without offending her hubby with the smell.

It ought to be regarded as hard enough to canvass for the sale of grindstones without being asked to pay a good big price for the privilege.

THE Cincinnati Muck Rake that instigated the charges against the management of the House of Refuge will hardly insist on the reinstatement of the suspended officials should its charges be proven false. It isn't built that way.

If the Judges of Kentucky Courts were chosen on their merits as lawyers, rather than because of their activity as political partisans, and if, after appointment, they would confine themselves to their Courts instead of serving on party committees and making political speeches, "the great common people" would have much more respect and regard for Kentucky's judiciary.

For more than a week the big Democratic papers have been printing long letters from Governor BECKHAM to Senator McCREARY, and from Senator McCREARY to Governor BECKHAM, each asking the other for "an honest election and a fair count" in the coming Democratic primary. Mercy me! Do Democrats ever tolerate anything but "fair counts?" I thought they were the only honest men in the election business.

The indications are that the decision handed down by the Kentucky Railroad Commission in which an arbitrary reduction is made in freight rates on all roads throughout the state, will result in a bitter and hotly contested legal fight, the railroads claiming that the reductions in some cases amount to confiscation. In all probability the matter will be carried to the Supreme Court at Washington.

Judging from the winding in and winding out and the rising up and swooping down of the concrete curb and gutter being laid in Third street, the layer-in-chief must have a bad case of double-barreled strabismus. Gentlemen, if you please, it's just as easy to do a thing right as it is to do it wrong, and the right way is by far the most creditable to you and the most satisfactory to the people who are paying for the work.

WHY SHE THREW HIM OVER.

A Philadelphia politician was talking about the late Samuel H. Ashbridge, former Mayor of the city. "I worked under Mr. Ashbridge for three years," he said, "and found him a good master, a considerate, kind and just master. "But one thing he always insisted on. That was implicit obedience to orders. If he told you to do a thing, that, and nothing else, was what you were to do. He didn't like a subordinate to try to improve on his orders. "I once tried to improve on an order of Mr. Ashbridge's. An errand I had been sent on I did better, as I thought, than had been told to do it. But when I came back the Mayor smiled and told me a story. "He said that there was a young man in love with a rich and beautiful girl. The girl informed him one afternoon that the next day would be her birthday. He said he was glad to hear it. He said he would send her the next morning a bouquet of roses, one rose for each year. "So that night he wrote a note to his florist, ordering the immediate delivery of twenty roses to the young woman. But the florist, reading this order, thought he would please the young man by improving on it, and so he said to his clerk: "Here's an order from young Smith for twenty roses. Smith is one of my best customers. Throw in ten more for good measure."

BAD BREATH

"For months I had great trouble with my stomach and used all kinds of medicines. My tongue has been actually as green as grass, my breath having a bad odor. Two weeks ago a friend recommended Cascarets and after using them I can willingly and cheerfully say that they have entirely cured me, therefore let you know that I am recommending them to any one suffering from such troubles." Chas. H. Holpern, 111 E. 7th St., New York, N. Y.

The Commonwealth's Dark Chapter

Kentucky Post.
The news that comes from Jackson is such as to make the head of every Kentuckian bang in shame. It is a quite unusual spectacle to see a man accused of conspiracy to have men shot down like dogs, allowed to go free on comparatively light bail and then immediately go on the bond of some of his alleged accomplices.

That is the infamous chapter of Kentucky history that was written at Jackson the other day.

The Democratic party of Kentucky has had a great deal to say in the past seven or eight years concerning the Republicans as a party of assassination. They have held up their hands in horror, and righteously so, at the infamous killing of William Goebel. They have pointed out other assassinations, in which the alleged conspirators were Republicans, and they have made this one of the main topics of their speeches.

If, in the face of the sworn statements of witnesses for the Commonwealth, any one were to propose bail for Caleb Powers, the indignation of the Democrats of this state would know no bounds.

Now, let's see what we have at Jackson. Just as Powers was accused of being accessory before the fact to the murder of Goebel, so we have Jim Hargis and his clan accused of being accessories to the murder of not one man, but several. Just as the confession of Yontsey, a life convict, has been considered a star card against Powers, so the confession of Curt Jett, another life convict, has been considered a star card against the Hargis clan.

In the case of Powers we have him confined in Jail without bail. That is absolutely right; the state cannot afford to allow any man accused of the infamous crime of conspiracy to murder to have any vestige of freedom unless a Jury acquits him.

In the case of Jim Hargis, do we have confinement? No! Hargis, the once powerful leader of Breathitt Democracy; the man who has not enough sense of the fitness of things to resign from the Democratic State Central Committee, is allowed to go free with a comparatively insignificant bail bond. Not only by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

UNIQUE LETTER
Wants Mayor Stallcup to Find Him a Buzz Wagon

Among Mayor W. E. Stallcup's mail yesterday morning was a letter from Germany, the superscription of which was a dead puzzler to his honor as well as other officials about his office, and upon opening the envelope the contents were as hazy and mysterious as the address. Not being a linguist or up in the German language he called to his aid Councilman Charles A. Walther, who translated the German text into English. The letter is unique, whatever else may be said of it, and reads as follows:—

ELSA, SOSTE ROTHACK, 1 OFFWEILER, July 12th, 1906.

Very Honorable Mr. Mayor: Pardon me for being so free to make the following statement and to gain information:

In a French newspaper named Journal Officiel Empire Français, dated June 19th, 1893, I read the following:—

"Locomotion—It is reported in New York that the two wheel seems to have been superseded by a new invention. In Mayville, state of Kentucky, there has been invented a wagon which is wound with a key, the same as the clock of a Church, which puts it in motion by a powerful spring, and runs in any direction whichever way it is guided during the time of half an hour. When the winding has run down it will be necessary to rewind in order to continue. With one winding it is supposed to cover a stretch of from three to four and one-half miles. The various roads and macadam with self-laid gravel are said to be traveled with this wagon and guided with greatest ease. This same wagon, it is said, has not alone been made in Mayville, Ky., but also in Springfield, Ill."

As I was desirous to have a vehicle of this kind I wrote on the 6th of May, 1875, to the inventor, but whose name was not mentioned in the above-named newspaper, to ascertain the price of a wagon of this sort. The letter, however, was returned with remarks, "Not Found," on the 21st of August, 1875.

Now, since I am still in the notion to procure a wagon of this kind, I humbly pray you, most Honorable Mayor, if it is possible, to send me the name and address of the inventor of this wagon, and also whether this invention has proved to be a success, and if there is any risk to run, and whether the spring, during the use of the wagon when wound up and running, will not break, and is there room for two persons on the seat and space for a small trunk in the rear. Furthermore, there is said to be on the right side of this wagon a small iron bar with which to regulate the speed. The first notch, when the bar is placed therein, lets the wagon go at a speed of a walk, the second a trot and the third a gallop.

If the inventor of this wagon is still alive, and the vehicle with the three wheels (one in front and two in the rear) is still manufactured by him, let him kindly send me the closest price, with the exportation tax based on the Elsass rates. Perhaps it would be convenient to the inventor to send me a sketch of the wagon and how many kilometers the machine will run at one winding.

Thanking you in advance for your kindly answer, for which I would have included an American post stamp had I had one, I subscribe myself with highest esteem, ATG. WINKLER.

P. S.—I did not read the notice in the above-named newspaper alone, Journal Officiel, but saw the item in other papers, in which was given a detailed account of this wagon.

[Mr. Mayor, send him the old Town Clock; evidently that's what he's heard of.—Ev]

Revolutionaries in St. Petersburg have posted proclamations sentencing to death the Emperor, General Trepoff, M. Pobledonosteff and General Orloff.

A long-continued diet of principally pickles and vinegar, in the hopes of reducing weight, caused the sudden death at St. Louis of Miss Annie Gros, 25 years old. A post-mortem examination revealed that the inner walls of her stomach were almost completely eaten away. The girl dropped dead while taking a drink of water.

Saving every cent that he did not need for his actual living expenses from the moment he earned his first dollar down to the last hour of his death, Russell Sage's name became synonymous with parsimony. He owned the largest amount of liquid capital in the country, and not even the master of the Standard Oil could produce on call as many actual dollars.

A love letter, which Miss Florence M. Crawford declares is equivalent to a will and should give her possession of an estate valued at $2,000 left by Edwin S. Updike, Jr., a Paymaster's Clerk in the United States Army, and to whom she declares she was engaged, was produced recently before the Register of Wills, Philadelphia, and was filed among the other papers in the case. The passage in the letter upon which Miss Crawford bases her claim reads: "I and all that I have is yours to do with as you like. I am not in this half-hearted. I am wholly and absolutely yours, and I want to be."

The dissolution of Parliament by the Czar is considered as the beginning of the last act of the great drama of the Russian revolution. The people and the Government are in direct opposition, and upon the army depends the immediate issue. The Government is preparing for battle, and no stone is being left unturned to safeguard its interests. St. Petersburg and other cities are crowded with soldiers, resembling an armed camp. The opposition in the former Parliament will not attempt to meet in St. Petersburg, but several of the members have gone to Finland, where, it is said, meetings will be held. The Government is making searches without process of law, and public and private meetings are forbidden. The Czar has announced that his action does not mean an annulment of the principle of popular representation.

Mayville Citizens Gladly Testify and Confidently Recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

It is testimony like the following that has placed "the old Quaker Remedy" so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of a Mayville citizen.

Henry Bertram, shoemaker, of 27 East Third street, Mayville, Ky., says:

"I believe everybody in Mayville has read in the papers the testimony I gave in March, 1900, about Doan's Kidney Pills, for I have been asked again and again by residents of this town if that statement were true. For the benefit of persons who may now be suffering from forms of kidney trouble I repeat my testimony. Before I got Doan's Kidney Pills at J. Jas. Wood & Co.'s Drugstore I had suffered for some time with backache and a tired feeling and heaving aching in and about the kidneys. Being a shoemaker I thought my trouble was caused by my work, for every time I took a cold it settled in my back, but Doan's Kidney Pills quickly rid me of the trouble, and never from that time to this have I had any cause to complain of my back or kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills perform exactly what they promise, and to be honest with you, I will say that in my opinion there is no remedy for kidney disorders equal to Doan's Kidney Pills."
